A Little Story with a Large Moral.

—One Man who Knew his Own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable seer of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red flannel, but we have some first-rate New Orleans molasses." Softly hinting that she didn't think that would answer the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of this article she wanted.

Have you, BENSON'S CAPSULE PLASTER?" asked a gentleman of a certain rugged whose name could be given to his desired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbago, and the Benson Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin."

"Not at present," replied the druggist genially. "but we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Alcock's, the Capicum and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," retorted the gentleman, with a slight show of temper. "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that some time ago, for another disease, of which the Capsule has since cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest set of the proprietors of some of them being this: That they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the 'best' thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

BLAINE BOOK.

A Maine paper says: The "History of Twenty Years of Congress, from Lincoln to Garfield," or from 1861 to 1881, now being written by Hon. James G. Blaine and published by the Henry Hill Publishing Company, will cover a most eventful period of our national existence. Written by any competent author, such a work could not fail to possess great value, but coming from the hand of Mr. Blaine, who is so admirably fitted for the task, by his scholarly qualifications, and his prominent participation in and intimate knowledge of public affairs during the time embraced, it will be invaluable. Mr. Blaine has been a straightforward and consistent partisan in political affairs. Few men who have so impressed their own personality upon the course of events and acted from positive convictions upon passing questions, are more happily constituted to review them with an impartial eye and a just perception. Necessarily the work will speak of men as well as their acts; of persons as well as things or events; but we apprehend that Mr. Blaine is capable of giving his book the magnanimous, but just and truthful character which is requisite to give permanent worth to a history of so important an era. We are not surprised to learn that canvassers for the work are receiving subscriptions liberally from men of all parties, and that the publication will be awaited with impatience. The sale of the work must be immense.

THE NAME FLAG-POLE.

The complaining remarks of the Eureka Sentinel concerning the GAZETTE's reference to something which recently appeared in that paper relative to "that flag-pole," seems to indicate that its editor considers the good name of our promising Governor in his special keeping. The GAZETTE has no positive knowledge that Governor Adams ever made any promise to furnish the Candelaria with a pole, but the True Measure, published at that place, does not seem to have any doubt about it. So the "venture" of the Sentinel that such a promise was never made, is probably erroneous. The Sentinel's desire to have Governor Adams unbent from his assumed dignity, and tell his friends all about the pole in question, will probably be complied with; and we will all doubtless soon learn that no promise during the campaign, except to make a change at the asylum, was ever made by his Excellency.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

The State Prison by legislation, out of which the California Democracy hoped to make so much political capital, and to make room for impetuous members of their party, has finally closed and the testimony ordered printed. Nothing to the discredit of the present Board of Directors was discovered.

The Texas gentleman who started the story that General Crook was captured by the Indians, still maintains that it is true. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that there is so much plausibility in the assertion, that an inquiry should be set on foot to determine why the Indians did not go to Washington to see what should be done with their captive.

Senator Edmunds was once urged to join a Congregational Church. He requested to see the articles. After several days' deliberation, he returned them and agreed to become a member if 10 out of 27 clauses were omitted, 6 modified and 2 new ones added. Perhaps the Senator would refuse to take a Presidential nomination unless he can write the platform, or go to heaven except on his own terms. Mr. Edmunds is a very particular man.

It is now stated that the number killed by the earthquake near Naples, Italy, is 2,000, and the wounded 1,000.

Suicide of the Spanish Minister at Washington.

New York, July 30.

Francisco Barco, the Spanish Envoy and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States, committed suicide with a revolver yesterday morning in his room at the Albemarle Hotel. He arrived in this city from Washington on the 20th inst. and went to the hotel, occupying a suite of rooms fronting on Broadway. His wife and younger daughter were guests of Gus Navarro, at Seabright, New Jersey. Barco has visited there several times during his stay here. Yesterday he called at the Spanish Consulate and conversed for some time with Consul General Suarez. Barco was about to return to Europe with his family, who intended visiting his elder daughter, wife of Don Alair de LaSalle, a wealthy land owner residing in Paris and to remain with her while Barco went to Madrid and again returned to this country. In conversation with the Consul General, Barco spoke pleasantly of his approaching visit to Europe, of meeting all his friends and associates; then returning to the hotel in the afternoon he wrote a number of letters and dined in his room alone. About 5 o'clock he gave his key to the clerk, saying something to him in French which the clerk did not understand. He says he noticed, however, that he looked pale and agitated, and that his hand trembled. He then left the hotel but soon returned carrying a package under his arm. A little later, Manuel S. Suarez, a Spanish commission merchant, called upon the minister by request, and remained with him in his room until this morning. Barco conversed pleasantly during the evening, and urged upon Suarez the importance of selling three horses, carriages and other personal effects, which he had brought on from Washington, which he wished disposed of before his departure for Europe. When Suarez was about to leave, however, Barco became much agitated, pacing the floor nervously, and permitting his emotion to find vent even in tears. In reply to a question by Suarez, the minister said his emotion was caused by his approaching separation from his family, and from friends he loved. At last he expressed a desire to go to early mass at the cathedral, and asked his friend to call for him and accompany him. Suarez promised to call for him at 5 o'clock in the morning and bade him good night. At the hour named Suarez returned to the hotel and went to Barco's room. He found the door closed, but not locked, and the gas burning dimly. Passing into the bed-room he was horrified to see Barco kneeling beside his bed, his head dropping on his right arm, which rested on the bed and supported it. His face and clothes were covered with blood. In the right side of his head was a large bullet hole, through which the brains slowly oozed. On the bed was a revolver with one chamber discharged. Barco was already dead, and his body was cold.

The police and Coroner were then notified and a dispatch sent to Senator Barco at Seabright, N. J., and to the Secretary of the Legation at Washington. On his table were 20 letters, addressed to Simon Barco, his family and to his friends. One of them was addressed to the Consul General, in which he stated he intended to kill himself, because his troubles were more than he could bear, and asked him to take charge of his effects and look after his wife and daughter. The letter gave no details as to the nature of the troubles referred to. It is believed, however, that they were of financial nature. He has been living beyond his means, and in striving to extricate himself from the difficulty by speculations in Wall Street, he became deeply involved. Senator Barco was 52 years old. He was Under Secretary of the Interior at the time of his appointment as Minister to the United States, February 18, 1881. The first Secretary of the Legation arrived this evening from Washington. The Secretary of the Spanish Embassy arrived also to-day from Europe.

Governors Coming.

Oakland, July 29.

Governor Crittenden and party of Missouri, and Governor E. H. Murray and wife of Utah, left for California in a special car this morning.

Professor Palmer, director of the observatory at Mount Vesuvius, says the disaster on the Island of Ischia was not due to an earthquake, but to a subsidence of the ground. He says the scene is heartrending. The hospitals and dead-houses are all full, and the corpses are so discolored it is difficult to recognize them. The whole police force was killed.

Benefit For the Strikers—A Consecrated Schooner.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.

The Northern Pacific Express will establish service on all its steamers centering here. Arrangements are being completed which promise a lively opposition between them and Wells, Fargo & Co.

The south-bound stage on the C. & O. route was robbed on Tuesday of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box, containing $2,500, and all the mails. Thursday C. J. Todd was arrested with $2,000 on his person. The proof is strong against him.

Head Agents in Montana.

The stage that left here this morning for Deer Lodge was stopped by two road agents about 15 miles from the latter place. The road agents went through the passengers' treasure box and mail. The agent here says there was but very little valuables in the treasure box. The amount taken from the passengers and mails is not yet known. Officers have started in pursuit.

A Destructive Earthquake.

LONDON, July 29.

The town of Comolciola, near Naples, was almost entirely destroyed by an earthquake last night. The neighboring towns, Positano and Lucanone, are greatly damaged. One hundred persons, more or less severely injured, have arrived at Naples by steamer. The number of persons killed is not known. The Minister of Public Works has gone from Rome to Comolciola to organize measures of relief. The shocks began at 9:50 last night. At that hour a majority of the people of the upper classes were at the theater. Nearly all of the houses in the town collapsed. It is estimated that 1,000 persons were killed and 800 wounded. A number of steamers have been brought into service to carry the injured to Naples. The impression produced by the disaster is indescribable. Many of the victims belong to good families.

LATER.—Steamers loaded with the injured people are constantly arriving at Naples from the scene of the calamity; the hospitals are already filled with the sufferers.

Relief for the Widow.

LONDON, July 30.

The professional swimmers of London have arranged a series of performances for the benefit of the widow of Captain Webb. The common people were proud of Webb, particularly because of his success in swimming across the channel. They have made many manifestations of grief over the loss of a man whom they regarded as the finest development of the English athlete. At the Crystal Palace last night there was a grand exhibition of fire works, which had been long in preparation. The whole audience viewed the fire picture of Niagara Falls, because it did not contain the portrait of Webb. Murphy, the Preston butcher, who has often challenged Webb, and who had always contended that Webb would never succeed in breasting the Niagara whirlpool, has also met with a death similar to that which overtook Captain Webb. Murphy, on more than one occasion, challenged Webb to dare with him the terrible whirlpool. Murphy undertook to swim this fearful pool on the very day that Webb attempted the Niagara, and he was drowned.

"I'm glad it rained while we were out on that picnic Sunday. I was in for being as miserable as possible, anyway, and it was some comfort to feel that the old woman's fun was spoiled," said a Reno husband this morning, as he lit one of Davis & Son's fine cigars to smoke, and dream of what might have been had he gone to the picnic alone.

The duration of a kiss has been found to be from half a second to one and a quarter minutes, according as to whether you are kissing your wife or the hired girl. If you drink Geo. Becker's celebrated Pacific beer you never make the mistake of kissing the hired girl, but always confine your kissing to the legitimate members of the family. That is one reason why so many married men like it—the beer.

"Don't be cast down by trifles," said officer Nash to a pedestrian who had mashed a banana peel with his foot and sat down at the corner of Virginia street and Commercial Row to think about it. And then the pedestrian arose and wrathfully spoke some curse words, and when a great multitude of people had gathered around to hear him, he changed the subject and advised them to go to Levy and Bro. and buy their dry goods.

FABULOUSLY RICH.

Dirt Worth Five Dollars Per Pound—One Man Takes Out Two Thousand Dollars a Day.

The Adin Argus of the 26th inst., published in Modoc county, California, contains the following, which, if not exaggerated, indicates a mine equal to the best ever uncovered on the coast: On Wednesday, the 18th inst., another rich strike was made in the Juniper mine, Hayden Hill. The new strike, which has disclosed a mine of wealth almost as tempting as Aladdin's famed discovery, is on the 90-foot level, and is also tapped on the 60-foot level. The vein is 15 inches wide and is known to extend for a considerable distance. Although Juniper has in the past made many thousands of dollars for its owners, nothing more rich or extensive than this strike has ever been found. A large amount of the dirt will, it is reported, yield $5 to the pound.

As an illustration of the richness of the ore, it is stated that one man is getting out $2,000 per day. Very rich dirt has often been found in this mine heretofore, but what makes the present strike so valuable is the extent as well as the richness of the lead. If we should state that a solid sheet of gold, an inch in thickness, extending several rods in every direction, had been discovered in the Juniper mine, the non-professional would appreciate the value of this new strike; and yet such a statement would hardly be an exaggeration. Juniper mine has heretofore been valued at $600,000, but that amount of money would not approach toward buying it today. The owners of this new Goldconda are John McFarling (discoverer and original locator) heirs of J. W. Harvey, Roseberry, Knight & Harvey, and John Cyrus of California.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES.

A New Use for the Microscope in the Hands of Scientists.

The microscope is doing wonders in the hands of scientists. The researches of such eminent men as Dr. Lionel Beale and M. Pasteur, says the Ogden Phot., are making a revolution in the treatment of infectious diseases. The latter gentleman is now bending his energies to the investigation of the cholera epidemic. The scourge of our southern coasts and tropical America generally has been receiving similar attention. We learn from the Scientific American that a report has been received at the State Department, at Washington, containing the results of observations and experiments made by Dr. Freize, a Brazilian physician, who believes he has discovered the cause of yellow fever in a microscopic parasite found in the blood of yellow fever patients. Experiments made by injecting this infected blood into the veins of rabbits and Guinea pigs proved its virulence by producing death, the blood of the inoculated animal showing the same characteristics as that from the original yellow fever victim. The doctor's experiments seem to prove that these parasite germs of death survive in the soil where the subject of the fever is buried, and from thence may again contaminate living organisms, which would appear to favor cremation rather than burial in the cases of yellow fever victims.

GOVERNMENT TIMBER.

The Night of Mill-Site Locations to Cut Necessary Timber.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has given the following opinion: "If the mill-site claim is timbered, there would seem to be no good reason why the lawful claimant should not be permitted to cut and remove the timber thereon for the purpose of constructing a mill, reduction works, tramways or other necessities required in the development of mining interests. In permitting the removal of the timber from such mill-site or tract of non-mineral land, prior to the issuance of a patent therefor, it is strictly forbidden to make such timber an article of sale for private gain or speculation."

Lodged in Jail.

A William Wood, alias "Slop," was arrested and lodged in jail Saturday evening, for petty larceny. This is the old, half-demented unfortunate, who travels about town picking up everything loose. An inventory by Constable Nash, of the contents of the old man's cabin showed a remarkable, but ill-directed industry, for many of the articles found were possessed of no value whatever. Aside from what seems to be an uncontrollable disposition to pick up articles of small value, the old fellow is entirely harmless, and the authorities should devise some way to have him taken care of.

Money Lake Crops.

The Lassen county Advocate of the 26th inst. contains the following concerning the crops of that locality: Our latest reports indicate a more satisfactory condition of things in the grain fields of the valley, than heretofore anticipated. Harvest will be under full headway next week, and from information at hand we feel confident that many of our farmers who have been counting on from one-half to two-thirds of an average crop, will be most agreeably disappointed. In many places wheat is said to be exceptionally heavy. The hay crop is a surprise to many, and at Tulare Confederacy will be fully up to the average.

Prepayment in Full.

A late order of the Postmaster General provides that no package, parcel or letter, will be forwarded upon which the postage has not been fully paid. This is an important order and ought to be fully understood. If the card of the sender is on the package, such package will be immediately returned, and the address will be notified and requested to furnish the requisite amount of postage. The former practice of forwarding letters upon which one-half of the postage had been paid, as will be seen by the above, has been discontinued.

Uncle Sam's Men.

Lieutenant Woodward of the First United States Cavalry passed west yesterday, with 50 recruits from Jefferson barracks, St. Louis; two of whom were for Camp Bluff, 20 for the 1st Cavalry at the Presidio and the balance for the 1st United States Artillery at Fort Vancouver.
